Not illustrated. 1837 Excerpt: .author seeks to bring his book of travels into notice by the following ludicrous dedication: -- To all Petty Walkers in go-carts, as well as mighty pedestrians on their own Hind-Legs, who are able to declare themselves such, by having accomplished either a cock-stride in the one case, or a sevenleague pace of Peter Schlemil in the other;--and with hearty Wishes for the Prosperity of St. Crispin, and plenty of tough Shoe-leather, this Tour is respectfully dedicated by the Author. With many authors an out of the way preface is thought to be the most likely to attract attention. Here follows an amusing sample of this species of preface writing. It ushers into existence a work in two large volumes, which has appeared within the last six months: -- What a delightful thing it is to feel free and unconfined!--to he able to write just what...
