From Form to Meaning: Freshman Composition and the Long Sixties, 1957-1974

By David Fleming

University of Pittsburgh Press. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, From Form to Meaning: Freshman Composition and the Long Sixties, 1957-1974, David Fleming, In the spring of 1968, the English faculty at the University of Wisconsin-Madison (UW) voted to remedialize the first semester of its required freshman composition course, English 101. The following year, it eliminated outright the second semester course, English 102. For the next quarter-century, UW had no real campus-wide writing requirement, putting it out of step with its peer institutions and preventing it from fully joining the composition revolution of the 1970s. In "From Form to Meaning, " David Fleming chronicles these events, situating them against the backdrop of late 1960s student radicalism and within the wider changes taking place in U.S. higher education at the time. Fleming begins with the founding of UW in 1848. He examines the rhetorical education provided in the university's first half-century, the birth of a required, two semester composition course in 1898, faculty experimentation with that course in the 1920s and 1930s, and the rise of a massive current-traditional writing program, staffed primarily by graduate teaching assistants (TAs), after World War II. He then reveals how, starting around 1965, tensions...
