Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Anne Evans: Poems and Music Oh! happy, if haply one or two, My secret of secrets sharing, Shall have learnt that to be is more than to do, And suffering better than daring. This little collection of rhyme and music would be, perhaps, incomplete without a few words of remembrance concerning the writer, whose name and memory are a music indeed to those who loved her. Others, who may not have met her face to face, will discern something of what she was, of her truth of heart, and poetic, contemplative nature, in these records of her passing moods and impressions. Her life was a very tranquil one, her acquaintance in her later years was not unlimited, most of her time was passed within the four walls of her own home, and the days were filled for her by her own pursuits, by the mingled cares and interests of a united family. She never married, but for that very reason was able to give more of herself to those whose interests she adopted. The writer of these few lines was one of those whose welfare and interests Anne Evans took to her kind heart.
